Trending News and Sports

SU named among top brands for job creation

Syracuse University was recently recognized as fourth on the Top 10 Big Brands Supporting Job Creation Initiatives, the only college to make the list. The main reason SU received a spot on the list was because of the university's South Side Innovation Center, which was created in 2006 by the entrepreneurship and emerging enterprises program at the Martin J. Whitman School of Management. The center provides facilities, classes, training and networking opportunities for the local community, according to SSIC's website. ## Are you 'In'

As Syracuse University Athletics prepares to move to the Atlantic Coast Conference, it is intent on demonstrating the power of Orange pride and the depth of its talent – both on and off the field. To ensure student-athletes are fully prepared – and supported – for the unique challenges posed by the ACC, a call to action is being issued to all members of the Orange Nation. Through the 'I'm in' campaign, Syracuse Athletics aims to unite fans across the country and around the world, from students to alumni to Syracuse residents and all others who bleed Orange. ## Men's Lacrosse

Orange Rolls to 18-9 win at Providence: Three days after scoring six first-quarter goals against Johns Hopkins, No. 4 Syracuse (5-1, 2-0 BIG EAST) duplicated the feat in an 18-9 victory against Providence (5-2, 0-2 BIG EAST) on a chilly Tuesday night at Lennon Family Field. The Orange closed the opening period on a 6-0 run and never looked back in handing the Friars their first home loss of the season. Read the full story on SUAthletics.
